

Head Start Coaching Companion Overview

[Music]

Narrator: The Coaching Companion is a video sharing and coaching feedback application that allows a teacher to share their classroom practice with their coach to view the videos to make comments and reflect on the teaching practice. With the Coaching Companion, current and prospective teachers are able to see effective teaching practices and refine their own practices.

Katie Eide: We're not telling them how to do it. We're showing them, oh, I see that you're really great at that. Let's build on that.

Narrator: The Coaching Companion is built around the practice-based coaching model. Coaching occurs within a collaborative partnership. Shared goals and action plans are established. Focused observations occur. Feedback and reflection lead to enhanced use of effective teaching practices, and the cycle of refinement and improvement continues.

Donna Johnson: A video is like that extra pair of eyes. When a teacher is implementing a lesson, we've got one perspective. The video provides that other lens. For teachers who are reflective and who are open to change, it is a tremendous opportunity for them to see how what they do or don't do impacts children's learning.

Teacher: You were right. Awesome job.

Debbie Roberts: Then, you get a baseline video, and you can share that on Coaching Companion. Then, the provider looks at that video. They can develop their goals based on the data and what they see in their own practice. Powerful.

Debra Walter: Powerful, yeah.

Narrator: The Coaching Companion's web-based platform allows for individualized and collaborative coaching to enhance teaching practices and, in turn, child outcomes.

Katie: As a coach, I love to see the teachers just realize things on their own. I'm really there to support them in their professional development and to help them get to the next point of their teaching and their practice.

Debra: I had this huge "aha," because it's one thing to be told that you're doing something well, but to see yourself, it's powerful in building a confidence. If you feel good about what you're doing, you're more ready to embrace the challenges.

Narrator: The Coaching Companion is a tool to help you to help you organize and engage in coaching. It helps to eliminate barriers of distance and time with a flexible framework that allows coaches and education staff to engage in meaningful coaching interactions when they are not together in person. It also supports self-reflection, a critical skill for professionals to develop as they seek to improve their own practices. The Coaching Companion supports the systems that programs develop in response to the Head Start Program Performance Standards around coaching.
